Frequently Asked Questions

May I bring in my own catering?

Oakham House does not permit any outside catering, as we have a fantastic in-house kitchen. The only external items that are allowed are cakes for special occasions, as we do not have a cake baker in-house.

Some of my guests have intolerances to food items such as gluten and nuts. Can you accommodate?

Our chef is happy to prepare for special meal requests for those guests who require it. We can accommodate requests such as lactose/dairy free, gluten free, vegan and halal to name a few. For any allergies, please specify them to your Conference Coordinator.

Is catering served in the same room that we book?

Catering is always served in the same room that you book, with the exception of our Tecumseh Auditorium, our largest room when booked for over 80 guests, Food is served just outside of the room in the adjacent Courtyard Lounge.

Do you offer bar service and alcoholic drinks?

Our facility houses a campus bar throughout the year, so we have a wide array of alcoholic products to choose from. If we don't have something you'd like, we can get it for you for an additional cost. We also have experienced bartenders who can offer their expertise at your event.

Am I able to make photocopies or send a fax?
